AWAKEN YOUR IDENTITY. DISCOVER YOUR
MISSION. LIVE THE LIFE GOD DESIGNED FOR YOU.

GOD ASKED ADAM,
"WHERE ARE YOU?"

BUT

WHAT IF HE ASKED YOU,
"WHO ARE YOU?"

Could you answer Him with more than just the usual, surface-level replies like,
"I'm a child of God," or "wonderfully made"?

Think About It

What if God asked you right now, “Who are you?” what would you say?

Many of us might reply with something like, “I’m a child of God, beautifully made in His image.” That’s a great response, and it welcomes you into the family of God. However, is that general answer sufficient to define your identity? Let’s dive deeper into this book to explore the concept of identity.

In this transformative book, I encourage you to stop meandering through life with a foggy perspective and a lack of direction. Through engaging analogies, spiritual truths, and practical insights, he invites you on a journey to uncover:

- The power of vision and mission in shaping your life
- Why vague prayers and surface-level identity lead to frustration
- How your spiritual identity and psychological design work together
- The hidden connection between your calling and your design
- How to hear God clearly when your mind is renewed

This book doesn’t offer hype. It offers awakening.

Because when you truly see who you are and why you’re here, everything changes.

Your life has a purpose. Your voice has a place. Your future has direction.

But first—your eyes must open.

Vision gives you clarity, mission gives you direction.

Preface

Did you ever happen to make New Year's resolutions?

Before you answer yes or no—let me ask: What were they about?

We often pray things like, “God, bless me with a car, a house, more money...” but at the end of the year, nothing seems to change. Does it mean God didn't hear us? No. The truth is—God doesn't make cars.

Elon Musk does. God doesn't print money. The central banks do.

What God gives us is vision. Ideas. People. Purpose.

And yet, we miss it because our eyes are closed and our minds are cluttered.

This book was born during a moment of deep reflection in 2019, at the height of the global COVID-19 crisis. I began to ask myself deeper questions: If I'm a child of God... then what? What does that truly mean?

That question led me down a path of revelation, identity, and discovery that I now share with you.

You'll notice this isn't just another Christian book filled with motivational quotes. This is a workbook. A mirror. A tool that invites you to think. Feel. Confront. And align.

My prayer is that as you go through each chapter, your eyes will be opened, your mind sharpened, and your purpose revealed.

Welcome to the journey.

Vision gives you clarity, mission gives you direction.

Chapter 1: The Power of Vision and Mission

You weren't made just to exist — you were made for a purpose.

Vision gives you clarity. Mission gives you direction.

Without them, life becomes routine: wake up, work, sleep, repeat — until one day, it's over.

This chapter will shake you to your core and ask the hard questions:

“What’s your vision for 2025?”

“If you died in 5 days, what would the world remember?”

It's time to stop making empty New Year's resolutions and start living on purpose.

Chapter 2: You Are Not an Accident — The Proof That God Thought of You First

You are not random.

Before your parents knew you, God did.

This chapter uncovers the truth about your identity, how the enemy fights it, and why knowing who you are is more powerful than what you do.

We'll also explore how your identity is both spiritual and psychological — shaped by God and expressed through your unique design.

Chapter 3: Wired Differently — Understanding Your God-Installed System

Ever wonder why you're so different from others — even those close to you? In this chapter, you'll see yourself like a smartphone system:

Same Creator, different functions.

God wired you with a specific temperament — a divine operating system — to carry out your mission.

You'll begin to identify your strengths, weaknesses, and the divine logic behind your personality.

Vision gives you clarity, mission gives you direction.

Chapter 4: The War Against Your Identity

Before God gives you a platform, the enemy will try to distort your perception of yourself.

This chapter reveals why the greatest battles are often fought in your mind and self-worth. Learn how to overcome the lies that tell you you're not enough — and walk confidently in the truth of who you are in Christ.

Chapter 5: Your Calling Is Calling

Calling is not about fame. It's about function.

Your gifts are not random — they are clues to what you're supposed to do. In this chapter, we explore how to recognize your calling and how it aligns with both your identity and your mission.

Chapter 6: Planted or Buried? The Pain That Produces Purpose

Many people confuse being buried with being planted.

Buried means forgotten — planted means something is coming.

If life feels dark right now, maybe it's because God has planted you for something greater. This chapter will help you see how pain, rejection, and failure are often part of God's growth process.

Chapter 7: The Eyes to See and the Mind to Think

It's not enough to have eyes — you must have vision.

It's not enough to have a brain — you need clarity of thought.

This chapter will help you develop a spiritual lens and mental discipline to walk in alignment with God's purpose — not just wish for it.

Vision gives you clarity, mission gives you direction.

Chapter 8: Who Are You Killing? (Self-Sabotage and Destiny)

Sometimes, the enemy is not out there — it's you.

Your habits, your beliefs, your fear, your procrastination — they're killing your future.

This chapter confronts the silent killers of destiny and calls you to stop burying what God has planted in you.
